THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR

SATURDAY, AUGUST 27, 1870.

THE RECEPTION, &c.

At the earliest moment after the excitement of the demonstration is over, we present our readers with the best abstract of the thrilling speeches made by Messrs. Vance, Turner, Kerr, Ransom and Robbins, which we can furnish; our position at the time being too inconvenient to make such notes as we desired. With the exception of Mr. Turner's, which he had written out, we can give the reader but a faint idea of what was said, from our own notes and those furnished us. Judge Kerr finds it impossible to aid us at all, after the exciting scenes have passed which prompted the speech, and we are compelled to rely upon our own rough notes, which furnish no proper idea of his able and eloquent speech:

Gen. R. B. Vance being introduced to the audience, arose and said in substance:

Messrs. Turner, Kerr and others.

GENTLEMEN:—A pleasing task has been imposed upon me to-day, the more so, because this grand demonstration is not that of the proud and arrogant victor. We have not met to assert that baneful doctrine "to the victors belong the spoils." No! this is a day of good feeling and good fellowship. Here, under the old flag, the flag of our fathers, and of our common country, the flag that we love notwithstanding the assertions to the contrary, we come with glad hearts and joyous spirits to bind up the wounds of the past and mollify them with ointment. This is to us a day of profound gratitude to the Giver of all good, and this sentiment is shared in by this vast concourse of human beings, whose upturned faces so indicate gladness and kindness. We have cause for gratitude, gentlemen, that you have again been restored to us in health and in the exercises of your freedom, and that, though some of you have been incarcerated in filthy dungeons, some chained to the floor, and some hanged by the neck to compel disclosures of which you had no knowledge, none of you have perished amid these perils, nor has the taint of crime been fixed upon a single one of your number.

Another cause of gratitude is this: Present the truth to the people fairly—let them understand its proper bearings, and in times of the greatest peril, they can safely be depended upon—thank God! Many a head and many a heart has been bowed in our land through fear that the people themselves were corrupt. The late grand uprising of the people in their power and integrity has demonstrated that they are the main pillars and supports of human liberty and justice.

We look upon the pages of history and our souls are thrilled as we read of the deeds of renown which have filled the world with admiration. Conspicuous among them are the struggles of our Anglo Saxon fathers as they wrested from reluctant Kings the glorious principles of human right and human justice. The grandest thing recorded in history, gentlemen, is the right of trial by jury, and connected with it the sacred writ of habeas corpus. We mourned because it appeared as if the work of ages was lost. But, sirs, the thunder of the ballot box yet echoes in our ears, proclaiming that these holy bulwarks shall be perpetuated forever.

Then, gentlemen, rejoicing in these glorious and happy assurances, in the name of this sea of beaming faces, this beautiful bequest of ladies—yes, in the name of our entire people, from the splintered peak of Mount Mitchell to the rocky coast of Cape Fear, I bid you WELCOME to our hearts and our affections.

Gentlemen! the jewels—the priceless jewels of our dear old State, consist in the worth and integrity of her sons, of which you are a part, and in the beauty and virtue of her daughters, of which these are a portion, and I ask you to join me with full hearts in the sentiment—the old North State and her people forever!

Three hearty cheers were given and then Mr. Turner responded as follows:

SPEECH OF HON. JOSIAH TURNER, JR.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, or, may I not hail you, as you are, my neighbors and my friends?

The language we speak is so poor, so wanting in compass, force and elegance of diction, that the tongue cannot tell half the heart feels on this occasion. Words cannot express my profound and grateful acknowledgments for this mark of your approbation and this manifestation of your regard and hearty good will. To each individual in this vast assembly I make my acknowledgments. With this right hand extended, as if clasping each of yours in a hearty grasp, I reciprocate your friendly greetings and your hearty good wishes.

If the language is too poor to thank the men, where shall words be found adequately to thank you, my fair friends, for your presence, flowers and approving smiles. Even if I had the command of words, I want the charms of eloquence and graces of oratory befitting their delivery to such an audience. So, remember ladies, if you go unthanked, it is not want of civility but want of words, and a tongue fitly attuned to soft and gentle speech.

If, however, you want proof of the appreciation of your presence on this occasion, look at this sea of upturned happy faces; and see, though every lip is closed, every eye is turned to you and speaks the joyous welcome of the heart which good men feel when patriotism, innocence and truth cheer them on to action and to duty.

Ambitious men love the applause and plaudits of men, but allow me, ladies, to say, I would not give the delight, the joy, the elegance, the grace and the refinement which your presence lends to this assemblage for all the plaudits of all the men.

Believe me sincere; don't think me extravagant in speech. As long as you approve, as long as you endorse me I can draw on these men for their plaudits and applause, and they dare not withhold it.

My much esteemed good friend, Gen. Vance, whom you have commissioned to welcome me again to the city, does me honor over much. He has done more than justice to my labors and my efforts; but he has not over stated or over estimated the importance of the occasion which called them forth. I am not vain or presumptuous enough to arrogate to myself that which belongs to a great occasion in the life of a people and the history of the State. It is the crisis, the occasion and not the man, which calls forth this demonstration. It is no merit of mine.

A perilous crisis is upon us. Dangers, novel in their character, and fearful in their aspect menaced the peace of our firesides; the integrity of the Constitution and the perpetuation of liberty itself. The great writ of right, the sacred writ of habeas corpus has been suspended and endangered. This is an alarming moment. In common with you and every good man in the State, I feel it to be such. Anxiety, fear and alarm pervad a the breasts of every man who has a home to defend or makes pretentions to the least concern for the peace, welfare and prosperity of his country.—Every intelligent friend of humanity and liberty on the continent—I almost said, in the world, is looking with wonder and amazement at the spectacle which North Carolina this day presents.

In a time of profound peace and tranquility, a wicked, usurping Executive declares two counties of the State to be in insurrection. He invited troops and commanders of troops from the State of Tennessee; men without occupation or character at home, to his aid; on the eve of the election they seized a hundred men or more and bore them off to prison. Among them, deacons, elders and members of the Churches of every denomination except the Roman Catholic. Among the prisoners were ex-members of the Legislature, ex members or Congress, an ex Judge and an ex-Speaker of the House of Commons.

To extort confessions, George Rogers, William Patton, Lucian H. Murray, and others were hanged like dogs by the neck. Gray and Wheeden were manacled like convicted felons and thrown into felons' cells. The ex Sheriff of Caswell County, instead of by the old common law process of warrant in the hands of an officer of the law, was found at his plow in the field, knocked down with a fence rail, his hands bound behind him, and his legs tied under his horse's belly and thus carried off ten miles to prison.

Your humble servant who now addresses you, was arrested in the streets of Hillsboro by ten white men, and two negroes, who cocked and presented their guns before they came within a hundred and fifty yards of him. He was taken to Company Shops and, about 8 o'clock on Saturday he reached Yanceyville amid the shouts and cheers of the African population who assembled to exult over their white captives! He was at first committed to a room in which were confined twenty Alamance prisoners. In an hour he was transferred to the room in which Chicken Stephens was murdered. The three first days of his prison life were spent in reading and writing, and now and then a song. A soldier boy not sixteen who stood guard over him, asked his prisoner if he would write him a letter to his Mammy. The request was granted and the following letter was soon written for the boy.

"HOLDEN'S BASTILE, Aug. 6 1870.

My dear Mammy:—This is Sunday and I am standing gun in hand, guarding the "King of the Ku Klux." This cruel war must soon play out, as Col. Kirk said to Chief Justice Pearson. We have captured a hundred Ku Klux, and taken the King.—Among them is Judge Kerr, an ex member of Congress and ex Judge; he has a great eagle eye, bears himself proudly and is the finest looking man I ever saw. Hon. Samuel P. Hill, once speaker of the House of Commons, is also among them. He is tall and straight like an Indian. He don't value "cussing" Col. Kirk or Governor Holden any more than he would a corporal or a private. Right now, a little sentinel has picked up a two pound rock to throw at Mr. Hill, but the King of the Ku Klux tells him it is cowardly to throw at a prisoner and he drops the rock.

I think Mammy, there must be something wrong about this war; they have got us into it under wrong pretences. I send you a dollar which the King of the Ku Klux gave me. He said he was afraid I would open the letter and take the dollar, so he gave me a quarter not to do it.

The "King" says, every citizen and soldier should be able to read and write for himself and that if I could have done so I would not be a Republican or have entered into this war. He says you must have the switches cut for me when I get home, and give me a good switching for arresting him before he had thrashed his wheat or sowed his turnips. He says every soldier under seventeen should be whipped by his Mammy. If that should come to pass many of Kirk's men will be whipped, for there is a heap of us under that age.

When I draw my pay you shall have all the money you want. Give my love to Jim, Will, and Cling. The "King of the Ku Klux" says, change Cling's name, for nothing good can come of a boy named after the old man Clingman, and he's sure to be trickey.

Longing and sighing to see you all, I sign myself your dutiful and obedient son,"

Wm. E Pate, one of the guard, asked if I would write him a love letter. The lady was described as having blue eyes, rosy cheeks and tapering waste, she lived at Bridgewater in Burke County. With a little assistance from the lover, I made out the following letter:

HOLDEN'S BASTILE, Aug. 6, 1870.

My dear Miss Jane: When I left you at Bridgewater you granted my prayer to write to you. I now avail myself of the privilege so graciously granted.

I am on duty to-day guarding the "King of the Ku Klux," in the very room where Chicken Stephens was murdered. The King is a stout, fat man, not tall, ball-headed and blue eyed, and about 48 years of age. He is not as bad a looking man as I expected, to see after all that Governor Holden and the Standard had said about his murdering people, getting drunk and breaking his bottle.

Give yourself no uneasiness about me, my dearest, for this cruel war is fast playing out. One wounded man makes up the sum of our casualties in battle. Bill Fox struck Wm. Jones across the nose with a tin plate and brought the only blood I have seen shed.

I thought the "King" would have hurt himself laughing at William's bloody nose.

Besides the "King" we have captured about one hundred Ku Klux. We have twenty confined in one room; they are called the "wheat thrashers" because they were taken while thrashing wheat. The wheat thrashing was only a pretext to get together for murder and mischief.

Billy Johnson is the oldest of the prisoners; he has been a member of the Presbyterian church for thirty years, but the "King" calls him the class leader of the Ku Klux.

But, I repeat, my dearest, feel no alarm for me, the war is over and I can write home, as Cæsar did, "Veni, Vidi, Vici."

But, my dearest, I have been writing you history instead of love. Tell me, when this "cruel war is over," and I come marching back to Bridgewater with a gay and gallant tread, may I take "all two" of your hands in "all both" of mine, and, looking in the blue windows of your soul, say as I now write, "my life, my Jinny, my Jane, I swear I love you!" Then I will sign myself, as I am, my charming charmer,

Yours to die for,

WM. E. PATE."

P. S.—I send you three waist ribbons; (they call them belts down here,) the "King of the Ku Klux" gave me to give to the girl I love best. If they were gold and as long as from here to Buncombe, I would give them to thee. I would girdle them about thy tiny waist and draw thee to my breast. Did Tom Nelson give you the poetry I sent? I feared he would keep it and send it to Miss Jane Stubbins, for he loves her "to kill," and the poetry fits her name as well as yours.

For fear you did not get it, I send you the original:

"Harsh and untuneful are the notes of love,
Unless my Jinny strikes the key,
Her hand alone can touch the part
Whose dulcet movements charm the heart,
And governs all this soldier with sympathetic away."

Oh, Jinny, Jinny Jane, if you only knew when I left Bridgewater how my spirits deserted me—how my heart sickened—how low I hung my head, and how piteously I moaned, you would write and say, "Come home, hold my hands, and say what you please." Then I could die in the contemplation of it. Say I may come, and then how sweet it will be,

"To hear the honest watch-dog's bark,
Bay deep-mouthed welcome as I draw near.
How sweet it will be to know that blue eyes
watch my coming,
And grow brighter as I draw near."

"Sweet is the hum of bees, the song of birds,
The lisp of children and their earliest words.
But sweeter far than this will to my charming
Jinny, when she minds to please."

Yours, my charming charmer, to live and to die for,

WM. E. PATE."

Monday night, I was ordered out of my prison window where I was sitting. I took a chair at the window and was ordered from the window. At 10 o'clock all the windows of the room were put down close, and the door shut. During the night a bucket of water was thrown upon me while in bed. I ran after the rascal who threw the water, to the door; the sentinel said he was asleep and did not know who did it.

When one of the guard remonstrated against such abuse of a prisoner, the sleepy sentinel said, "hush, it was one of the officers who threw the water."

The next night I was again refreshed with a shower bath in bed, in the same way. Before that, I had been alone; on Tuesday night, a special guard of seven, was placed in my room. I was forbidden to speak to any one unless to the guard, and to them only for water and food. Nor was I allowed to go to the windows of my prison. Capt. Franklin was in command of this guard. Lieut. Banner was the first man who ventured to speak to me; picking up a sheet of paper from the table and being told it was mine, he came to my bed and asked for it. I feigned sleep; he called aloud and when I did not answer, he said, "you d——d old rasca', you are not asleep, I don't want your paper," and threw it down.

Getting up I went to the table and wrote for the sentinel, "tell him I am not allowed to speak."

Next, Capt. White came in and spoke; I told him it was against the law, he must get permission from the guard. The Captain said he was one of the Salisbury prisoners and was well treated, especially by the jailer and Sheriff of Rowan. I thought this Captain a clever man.

When dinner came I inquired of Capt. Franklin if I could ask a blessing; he said "yes," and I thanked God that it not allowed to talk. I was allowed to eat, and that I felt no fear of Holden, Kirk or their armed men who stood about my table. This blessing was repeated three times a day with a little variation.

Marshal Carrow came on Thursday and entered my prison with Col. Kirk. When he spoke I told him it was against the law and he must get permission to talk with me from Capt. Franklin. Kirk spoke and said he had permission, so the Marshal and the prisoner talked.

The people of Yanceyville and of Caswell were specially kind and shall long be remembered by the prisoners and their children's children.

On Saturday we marched for Company Shops, where Billy Smith blows his horn. We moved from Yanceyville about 3 o'clock, amidst the shouts and rejoicings of grinning negroes. The ladies appeared at the windows and cheered us with pleasant smiles and cheering words. Dr. John L. Williamson and Mr. W. B. Graves sent each a wagon for the prisoners. We camped at Slade's Hill Saturday night, seven miles from Yanceyville. Franklin, one of the seven men who guarded me, asked Col. Kirk to allow me to sleep in Dr. Williamson's wagon, and he and the guard would lay under and about the wagon. This was refused. I then refused to sleep under the tents that Kirk had pitched for the prisoners. Dolph Moore, for whose personal liberty Chief Justice Pearson exhausted the judicial power of the State, gave me his blanket and I slept on the ground and covered with the clouds. Singing a little song.

"Shout the glad tidings exultingly sing,
Holden now triumphs, Kirk is the King."

We left our camp at eight o'clock Sunday morning. We witnessed a quarrel three miles long, between Lieutenant Banner and Dr. Clendenen of Alamance. Banner was thought to be the most offensive and brutal of all Kirk's men. He it was who struck Mr. Wiley over the head with a rail. Banner attempted to force one of the wagons for the prisoners to take up his soldiers. Dr. Williamson objected, Banner cursed him, The Dr. cursed back. Banner put his hand upon the hilt of his sword and threatened to run him through. The Dr. told him to pierce and be d—d. For three miles the quarrel lasted. Banner clasping first his sword hilt and then his revolver. Banner put his men in Dr. Williamson's wagon, The Dr. threw down his reins and stopped. Kirk interposed and the Dr. was not again molested nor burthened with the "lambs" until we reached High Falls factory, when Banner and his men got in his wagon again. The prisoners in the wagon all left it and fell into line on foot leaving the Dr. with his wagon. Banner soon left the wagon to catch up with the regiment. We reached the Shops about 4 o'clock Sunday evening in a drenching rain.

The citizens asked that we might go to the hotel; that was refused; to the Church, and that was refused; to the Court House in Graham, and that was refused. We stood in the mud and rain until sun down, when seven tents were pitched for our accommodation. I had refused to take any thing from Holden's Commissary. My good friends in Yanceyville supplied me with food. I refused on the march to sleep under one of Holden's tents. I slept soundly on Sunday night under a tree, until there was a general outpouring of the heavens, and my sleep was not so sound. It rained most of the day Monday, and near night Kirk and Douglas (Dutch built Stephen) determined that we should strike tents and march to Graham and occupy the Court House.

We reached Graham after dark, wet and muddy. No prisoner had a dry blanket or shirt. All agreed that the move at that time was intended as a punishment instead of a comfort. On Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock a squad of soldiers under Capt. Franklin and Lieut Banner, called for Wiley, Gray, Wheeden and Turner and we were marched off to jail. We were locked up in the iron cages, Wheeden was manacled like a felon. A negro prisoner was put out of his cage and wiley and Turner put in. The cage was foul and loathsome. Banner was jailor.

I wrote a note to my friend Sidney Scott for a pitcher, wash-bowl, soap and towels, two chairs and a table. These articles were sent to the jail door but never got in. Two blue blankets constituted the furniture of the prison. They were in the condition the negro prisoner had left them.—I asked that they be taken out, and I allowed to buy new ones. This was refused. No candles or lights were allowed. I asked for pipe and tobacco for Mr. Wiley, and that was refused. We resolved not to drink water from the bucket until nature compelled us.

On Thursday morning, early, I was taken from my old cell and put into a fresh one with Alexander Tarpley, negro, who was chained in the middle of the floor. This felon was condemned to be hung the next day (Friday.) He had made no preparations for death and said his many friends told him not to fear, the Governor said he should not be hung. He informed me there were creeping things and vermin a plenty in his cell as well as in the one I left. I soon had ocular demonstration and other feeling proof of the truth of what the felon said. At 10 o'clock Banner offered me water in a soldier's canteen, I declined and said I could hold out until night, by which time I would be in Salisbury before Judge Brooks. It is now ten days since I had a drink of water. I desired to see how long I could have held out before drinking from the foul blue bucket.

And now my friends this brings me to speak of temperance, water and buttermilk. Allow me to say—

"Water bright water, for Bob Vance and me,
And wine for the drunken debauchee;
Water cooleth the brow, and cooleth the brain,
And maketh the faint one strong again
It comes o'er the sense like a breeze from the sea
All freshness, like infant purity.

Fill to the brim, fill to the brim,
Let the flowing crystal kiss the rim,
Give water, bright water to Bob Vance and me,
Give wine, give wine to the Court and the debauchee.

So hurrah boys for water, hurrah, hurrah!
Thou art silver and gold, thou art ribbon and star.
Hurrah, for bright water, hurrah, hurrah!"

Ladies and gentlemen one and all I drink to your good health in water. And you my little children—blessed of God—and your mothers, I drink your health in butter milk. This is certainly a primitive drink. I pity the persons who so far depart from first principles and early teaching as to prefer hot coffee and tea, to cool butter milk. So here's your health, and God's blessing on you my little children.

A word to you my friends who do not confine your drinking to butter milk and water. It is all idle to say you cannot endure cold, heat, labor, fatigue, trouble and war without strong drink. I stand before you a living example to the contrary. I have taken, and only as medicine, one drink during the whole of this Holden-Kirk war.

There is but one cup that you should drink, and that is the cup of disappointment.

When disappointment fills thy cup,
Undaunted, nobly drink it up;
Truth will prevail,
And justice show her tardy honors
Sure though slow.

But to resume the history of the war.—On Thursday we started for Salisbury.—Judge Pearson having "exhausted" the Judicial power of the State and the writ of habeas corpus having "played out," Judge Brooks determined to play a hand and ordered Kirk to bring his prisoners before him.

It was after this order and while Kirk was on his way that he tortured his prisoners with manacles and the dungeons, giving them such water only as he knew they would not drink. When we arrived at Salisbury, after an imprisonment on the part of some for five weeks, Judge Brooks broke the chains with which Pearson had bound the people hand and foot. Never before was a people and a State so inhumanly outraged, never before was there such a combination of crime, ambition, despotism, and wickedness to crush out the liberties of our unoffending people.

The Constitution and the people have won the victory. Truth, at last prevails, and justice under Brooks and the Stars and Stripes have shown her tardy honors, at last, at last!

We stand to day in the midst of a great movement of the people. A revolution in public sentiment is on foot which cannot be checked or stopped in its progress until the people are restored to their lost rights and constitutional privileges. This excited state of the public mind is not local nor confined to this city, this county, or this district, it ex ends in every direction from the North to the South, from the East to the West, from Carrituck to Cherokee.

It is falsely said that I have raised this stormy indignation of the people against the rulers who pretend to act and speak for them. With both hands I deny it. It is Holden, Kirk and Pearson who have raised the storm. Under the cry of "peace," "let us have peace" they have raised this storm. If this is peace what would they call war.

Let me ask, is the present condition of North Carolina "peace?" Is the arrest of one hundred citizens without warrant, law or the shadow of law, "peace?" Is garrisoning this city, "peace?" Is the hanging of Patton, Rogers and Murray "peace?"

If the Executive and the Judiciary put their trust in such principles of "peace," let them do so, as for me and mine we will put our trust in God, the Constitution and the law.

I have talked long enough; but before concluding I must say a word of thanks to my counsel, Messrs. Bragg, Graham, Battle and Merrimon. I cannot measure to them the meed of praise they deserve. I thank them for myself, I thank them in behalf of these persecuted prisoners who stand around me. I thank them in your name, ladies, and in the name of this multitude of men. Yes, I thank them in the name of all the good men of the State who love law and order.

And now thanking you all again and again for this hearty welcome, I quit the stand for others, asking God's blessing upon you all.

Hon. John Kerr was now loudly called for, and he came forward and delivered a most eloquent and thrilling speech. Upon reflection, our notes of the speech are so poor and incomplete, we cannot do the author the injustice to attempt a notice of it.

REMARKS OF GENERAL RANSOM.

Gen. M. W. Ransom arose and said in substance:

It was no time for him to speak, that vast concourse were there to see and hear Josiah Turner, "the fearless champion of civil liberty," who had passed the furnace with his garments brightened by its fires. The hearts of North Carolinians beat for him and with him and no friend of free Government failed to recognize in his courage and fortitude an example of the highest devotion to the rights of men.

He could not let the occasion pass without returning to Mr. Turner and the other prisoners his thanks and those of the country for the manly and patriotic manner in which they had deported themselves through this ordeal. They had really forgotten themselves and only thought of their country. Their release however, was a great event in our history. It was the triumph of law and right, and in rejoicing over it, it was proper to refer to that high minded, pure and patriotic Judge, who standing above faction and passion has fearlessly and conscientiously performed his duty in ordering the discharge of the prisoners. The name of Judge Brooks for all time to come, would be associated with the great writ of habeas corpus, and with the purity and independence of an enlightened judiciary.

The Speaker then referred to the late election. He said it was the most remarkable result accomplished under similar circumstances anywhere and at any time.—The bayonets of the Imperial Guard of France controlled their elections. The soldiers of the daring Tribune abused the Forum had silenced the Roman orator. But amid bristling bayonets, military arrests, the suspension of the writ of right, the people of North Carolina, with undaunted constancy had like their fathers before them nobly, most nobly asserted their rights and vindicated them at the ballot box on the 4th August. The triumph was above all party; it was the triumph of law, of the Constitution, of civil liberty itself. Its influence would be felt everywhere. A new light had broken in upon us—it was the great light of peace, of a restored government, of faith in popular institutions, and filled us all with new hope for our State and the country. It was fortunate that in a time of the greatest peril to liberty itself, a Federal Judge had been found to stand by the law and the rights of all men. It would teach our people to look to the general government and to feel that we had a common country, which we would maintain and which was ready to render us protection. It was time for passion now to subside; justice was due to all men; it was above everything else. Through moderation—regard for law—forbearance to all, we had achieved a victory, signal and complete. Let the same spirit and principles still govern us. Courage in danger, fortitude in adversity, were great virtues, but magnanimity in triumph was still greater and above them all. It would illustrate and honor our triumph. The result was too important, the issues too serious to permit passion, prejudice or party feeling to bias our action. We ought to show that we are as generous, as magnanimous in victory as we have been firm and determined in the trials through which we have passed. We invoke the co operation of all good men in the great work of building up North Carolina, and let us proceed without bitterness, with no thought but of love for the State and constant fidelity to the whole country and every section of it, to make our State as proud as the proudest and to make still greater and nobler this grand Republic of America. It was no time to think of the broils and criminations of the past. Let us enter a new future of peace and moderation, and show the whole world that we are devoted to civil liberty and free government and are determined to do justice to all men, white and colored, and that we can and will conquer and subdue our passions, prejudices and every bitter memory for the good of our country.

Again, returning thanks to the noble men who have suffered for us, he closed with a renewed appeal to the people so to conduct themselves that no human being could truly charge that they had any motive but patriotism and public virtue. This course would make us a great, good and happy people.

MR. ROBBIN'S SPEECH.

Mr. Robbins said, he united most heartily in the general congratulations upon the release of the prisoners. He did so on account of those worthy gentlemen themselves being relieved from a disagreeable and humiliating situation. But there is even a higher reason than this for our joy and rejoicing. Civil liberty stands vindicated, and the most sacred rights of all of us have been rescued from beneath the feet of a hireling soldiery.

We have certainly passed through a most remarkable and trying crisis. Evidences abound to show that our high officials, entered into a deliberate conspiracy against the peace of the State and the personal liberty of the citizens. The reckless manner in which they have outraged and trampled on the sensitive feelings of our best citizens indicates, clearly, that they sought to provoke retaliation and bloodshed. The pretence was that violators of the law must be put down! But our holiest laws have been sadly violated by these officials themselves, under pretext of upholding law.—Strange way to teach the people reverence for law, for the rulers of the land to set the most flagrant example of lawlessness themselves! The evident aim and purpose of all this was to secure the triumph of a party. How selfishly partisan it was to seek a mere party victory at such a cost!

The wicked plot has signally failed.—Political defeat and personal odium have come down upon the heads of the guilty plotters. Thanks to God for this marked and speedy meeting out of justice to desperate public criminals!

This victory has been achieved by our patient self-control. We conquered our own passions, restrained our just indignation, refused to take up the bloody gaunt let thrown down by our rulers, sternly resolved not to be provoked into violence; and calmly and firmly North Carolinians marched up to the polls and voted themselves free again. It was the sublimest act in the history of North Carolina!

It remains for us now to utilize this great political victory by pursuing the same course of moderation and good sense by which the triumph was won. We must be generous, we must be magnanimous; we must seek no mere party ends; in dulge no spirit of personal or partizan vengeance; but let us strive to do promptly and faithfully that which will prove us worthy of power; let us seek to benefit and build up the State and promote the interests of all her people of both races. Let us prove, also, by our actions that we have been slandered in regard to our purposes, respecting the colored race. Let us prove ourselves the genuine friends of the colored man. Our opponents have sown distrust and jealousy between the races for party purposes. When we have held out the hand of friendship to the black man they have told him to spurn it! Thus two jealous and distinct races have lived in proximity to one another, cherishing prejudice and hatred against each other. Who can wonder that all this has led to some friction—some outrages—some crimes, on each side? It is ours to end this unhappy state of things forever, and weld the two races together in perfect amity, by pursuing a policy of fairness, justice and liberality to both, and living down the lies that have been spoken and printed against us in this matter.

I am the more willing to counsel against revenge because I feel a sincere commiseration for our foiled despots. They have played a desperate game and lost all, even honor itself! James the Second has found his parallel; "Kirks lambs" of 1688 appear again in 1870; the weak judiciary of those times, pandering to the tyrant, seems also revived again. Can it be possible that the Hindoos are correct in the doctrine of the metempsychosis, or transmigration of souls! And that by some mysterious Ku Klux process the actors in that drama of 1685 88 have come back on the stage again to re-enact the scene?

The Chief Justice has made a record for himself in this matter. I will not speak a disrespectful word of a high judicial officer. But I will say that I blush for the weakness of the Judiciary of North Carolina in this great crisis. The Chief Justice had the chance to write his name on one of the proudest historic pages. Oh! that his narrow prejudices had permitted him to see it. But he lost the opportunity. No doubt he is a great man on small occasions; but he has shown himself a small man on a grand occasion! The chosen guardian of the law, he has permitted the law to be trampled on. He has said "this is the law;" and then said to the Executive you may disregard it if you choose! And the Executive did disregard it so long as he pleased; until Judge Brooks took hold of the matter; and then what a scramble have we witnessed on the part of Kirk, and the Governor, and the Chief Justice, to try to do what they ought to have done before. Bah! it is a pitiful, sorry record, and as a plain, blunt, Tar-heel, I independently declare that I am ashamed by the whole of it.

Thank God that one noble North Carolinian had the power, and the courage, and proved himself equal to the crisis. Judge Brooks' name will be immortal. With what mingled firmness and moderation has he proceeded in the noble work of vindicating the cause of civil rights. We have had justice done and liberty secured by a Federal Judge sitting beneath the folds of the "old Flag." It is an auspicious omen. Hitherto for the last five years we have looked upon that flag as the emblem of stern authority. We scarcely knew whether we might also find it a shelter and defence. Give me that U. S. Flag. (Here Mr. Robbins took hold of the flag staff and waved it, amid loud huzza.) Thank God, for the "old Flag." We find its folds now wave over us for our protection. Will we not love it again? We have fought against it. We will fight against it no more. God bless the old flag. I call on all my fellow-ex Confederate here to join me in three rousing cheers for the "old Flag." (They were given in tones of thunder.) Three cheers also for Judge Brooks. (They were given with a will.) I predict that this act of the Fate at Judge will do more to restore genuine loyalty and affection for the Federal government, in one day, in this State than Holden and "Kirk's lambs" would do in a hundred years.

Burgen is in jail. That is a good thing. It is God Almighty's retribution on a bad man. It is fitting that the man who came from another State and has made himself prominent in trampling on the rights and sensibilities of North Carolinians, should have brought up in a North Carolina jail.

I have no sort of respect for or patience with any of the band of lawless brigands. I tell Kirk and his banditti to go back to the valleys of East Tennessee, and let us have peace. They are the tools of a tyrant. (Voice, Kirk is listening to you.) Let him listen, and let him know that standing here beneath the folds of the stars and stripes, I defy him and his bayonets. If they arrest me, as they did Judge Kerr, merely for a speech, I will turn to this flag and to the Judge who sits beneath it and my appeal will not be in vain!

The fact is, three great rights, among others have been vindicated in this crisis Liberty of speech in Judge Kerr's case, liberty of the press in Turner's case, and the liberty to thresh wheat, in the case of the wheat threshers! We may now talk, write and labor, in safety and peace, under the broad ægis of the "Old Flag," the beautiful "stars and stripes." Southern blood has often been poured out in defence of this flag, and will be again if need be!

[Many other things were said and points made by Mr. Robbins, but we have been unable to give them.]

TURTLE AND CLAM SOUP—At Pepper & O'Connor's Restaurant.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

We are compelled to ask the indulgence of our advertisers for a few days. We are so crowded we cannot do by them as we desire. We will make up for all short comings.

OBSERVER.—Our informants failed to give us all the particulars on Thursday night during the serenade. We have just learned that the band and crowd serenaded Judge Battle, Judge Fowle and Col. S. H. Rogers, all of whom acknowledged the compliment in brief speeches. Judge Battle, we are told, was particularly happy in his brief allusions to the remarkable events which have recently occurred.

UTLEY'S COTTON PRESS.—Thos. H. Briggs Esq, is manufacturing Utley's Cotton Presses to order, adding Mr. Utley's latest improvements. We have examined the improved machine and consider it now the ne plus ultra of Cotton Presses. The improvements recently made by Mr. Utley are very valuable. Send in your orders to Mr. Briggs at once. He makes them to order and does not keep many on hand at a time. See his advertisement."

COUNSEL FOR THE PRISONERS.—The people of the State as well as the prisoners of Kirk, owe the counsel for the prisoners a debt of gratitude which never can be repaid. Night and day for weeks, have Messrs. W. H. Battle, Bragg, Merrimon, W. A. Graham, K. P. & R. H. Battle, Jr., R. B. Watt, R. B. Withers and J. R. Winston patiently and untiringly devoted themselves to the interests of justice and civil liberty in the defence of the prisoners. Much is said of the triumph of habeas corpus, and of the patriotic conduct of Judge Brooks, but it is to the earnest, able and untiring efforts of these gentlemen, that this noble triumph has been secured.

WE learn that Hon. Sam'l. P. Hill, of Caswell, on motion of R. C. Badger, Esq., of counsel for prosecution, and concurred in by his associates, was honorably discharged to-day by Chief Justice Pearson, after full investigation of his case. He has been arrested for six weeks, was charged with the murder of Stephens and conspiracy against the government, and now is discharged, because they have no evidence against him!

P. S. We have just learned that Mr. Fowler has also been discharged.

SHAMEFUL.—The Standard this morning in noticing the death of our late estimable fellow-citizen, Col. C. B. Allen, makes the false statement that he had been to the Democratic speaking and on his return complained of being ill and soon expired. It looks as if it was the purpose of the Standard to attribute his death to the excitement of the Democratic speaking.

The intimation is false and malicious. Col. A. though feeble, was at his desk as usual in his office at the Depot on Thursday morning. A gentleman sent for him on Fayetteville street, on business. About 10 o'clock he left the office to walk up town against the remonstrances of his young men on account of the heat and his feeble ness. He returned to the office about 11 o'clock, greatly exhausted, and went to his desk and commenced work. His son C. E. Allen, perceiving that he was ill, went to him while he was in the act of falling and caught him. His physician was sent for, he was removed to his dwelling, but alas! nothing could be done to relieve him. He never spoke after he fell in his son's arms, remained insensible and expired about 3 o'clock, P. M., at his own home, at least three-fourths of an hour before the "Democratic speaking" commenced. That paper, it seems, cannot tell the truth even about serious matters.

A Chapter of Facts.

Space is valuable in a newspaper, and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts, important to the public, into a small compass. Those facts relate to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—what that celebrated medicine is, and what it will do. In the first place then, the article is a stimulant, tonic and alterative, consisting of a combination of an absolutely pure spirituous agent with a most valuable medicinal vegetable substances that Botanic research has placed at the disposal of the chemist and the physician. These ingredients are compounded with great care, and in such proportions as to produce a preparation which invigorates without exciting the genera system, and tones, regulates and controls the stomach, the bowels, the liver and the minor secretive organs.

What this great restorative will do must be gathered from what it has done. The cases of dyspepsia, or any other form of indigestion, in which it has been persistently administered without affecting a radical cure is yet to be heard from, and the same may be said of bilious disorders, intermittent fever, nervous affections, general debility, constipation, sick headach, mental despondency, and the peculiar complaints and disabilities to which the feeble are subject. It purifies all the fluids of the body, invigorates the blood and the genti stimulus which it imparts to the nervous system is not succeeded by the slightest reaction. This is a chapter of facts which readers, for their own sakes, should mark and remember.

JUDGE BROOKS' COURT.

The lengthy evidence in the case of Mr. Wiley before Chief Justice Pearson aided by his Associate Justices, Dick and Settle, together with the proceedings of the demonstration, have forbid the publication for several days of anything pertaining to Judge Brooks' Court.

We have already stated that on Thursday last, the question of contempt on the part of Kirk, in his neglect to make a full and sufficient return to the writs of Ashe corpus, issued by Judge Brooks for the delivery of all the prisoners at Salisbury, was ably argued by Messrs. Baily and McCorkle for the respondent, Kirk, and by Messrs. Merrimon and Graham for the petitioners, before Judge Brooks in Chambers. The respondent plead that he intended no contempt, but his failure to comply grew out of the fact that he had been advised by counsel, that so far as the prisoners were concerned for whom writs had been issued by Chief Justice Pearson, that said writs were still in force and took precedence of Judge Brooks' writs, and, therefore, he (Kirk) felt compelled to deliver them to Judge Pearson. The facts in this case, which the public know, expose shameless trickery and partizan management on the part of the actors, but the record sustained Kirk. Hence, Judge Brooks decided, that confining himself to the simple question of contempt, the only point to be considered, and making no question as to the action of others, he did not think the charge of contempt could lay against G. W. Kirk.

On yesterday (Friday) before Judge Brooks, in Chambers, the motion for bench warrants against Col. G. W. Kirk, Lt. Col. Burgen, Major Yates and others of Kirk's command, restraining them from further outrages, was resumed and ably argued by Gov. Graham and Judge Merrimon, for the petitioners, and by Messrs. Bailey and McCorkle for the defense.

Judge Brooks was of opinion that he had a clear right to issue the warrants. He granted the warrant for Burgen and required him to give bond and ample security for $5000. In the cases of Kirk and others he was disposed to suspend judgment, and the continuance of the suspension would depend entirely upon the future conduct of Kirk and others. If their outrages were repeated the warrrants would issue.

Judge Brooks having disposed of the cases before him and on opening the adjourned District Court for hearing equity cases finding counsel not ready, he adjourned the Court. He left the city for his home on last night, with the good wishes of all lovers of law and civil liberty.

JUDGE PEARSON'S COURT.

The investigation of Mr. Wiley's case terminated on yesterday after it had been argued very ably on the part of the prosecution by Messrs. Badger and Boyden and by Messrs. R. H. Battle, Jr., and Gov. Bragg for the defence. Judge Pearson withholds his decision for the present.

To day, the case of Mr. Felix Roan, charged with complicity in the murder of Stephens and with conspiracy against the State, was taken up. Witnesses are being examined, but we have no room for the testimony.

Friday Night Dispatches.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 26.—The "Shenandoah," "Brooklyn" and "Hartford" are ordered to the European squadron. The squadron will sail in about ten days.

The Farmer's and Planters' National Bank of Augusta, Georgia is authized to commence business with a capital of one hundred thousand dollars.

The Marine hospital at Natchez, is temporarily assigned to the corporate authorities.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 26.—Gen. Ryan, the Cuban leader, has been arrested on the old charge of having resisted the officers when previously in custody, and for violation of the neutrality laws.

Wm. A. Woods' rosin distillery in Brooklyn has been burned.

The Times has a special dispatch from Paris to-day which says we must not expect specific intelligence from that side for several days. A great strategic movement is in progress, the importance of which is to be judged of by the reserve of the generals and authorities. All communications for the army are stopped and correspondents imprisoned. Place no faith in lying Prussian organs in London or in the journals courting Prussian patronage in New York. The military prospects of France are clearer and more cer ain than at any time since the commencement of the campaign. The French strategical combinations can scarcely fail in decisive results in regard to the destruction of the invading army.

VIRGINIA.

ALLEGHANY SPRINGS, August 26.—A vote of sympathy on the issue of the war was taken here to-day by visitors from all parts of the country. At the close of the polls the vote stood two to one in favor of France. Gens. Beauregard and Hardee voting for France.

TENNESSEE.

MEMPHIS, August 26.—Major Edward Freeman, a young merchant and edward Hamlin, a young lawyer, fought a duel last over the Mississippi line at fifteen paces with derringers. They fired simultaneously and Hamlin was shot through the body and died in ten minutes. The seconds for Hamlin were Capt. Dabney Scales and Major Thos. T. Saunders, and for Freeman Capt. Cowries Woolridge and Major West Rhea.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE August 26.—The State militia and a hundred special constables are required to keep the strikers in awe around Durfee mills at Fall River.

FOREIGN.

CARLSRUHE, August 26.—The heavy fighting at Sienary commenced last night ten miles from Mountmedy in the direction of Bonniers. The Prussians cut the road between Clamanges and Lamorcilly. The gates of Mountmedy are closed and an assault is momentarily expected.

PARIS, August 26.—The bakeries were visited yesterday to see if they had the legal amount of flour on hand, namely forty days' supply.

Engineers have marked the bridges over the Maune to be destroyed when the enemy approaches.

A committee of the Corps Legislatiff proposes to enroll all between 20 and 35, and to incorporate the guard mobile into the regular army.

The Government has taken measures to arrest the transportation of munitions of wounded through Belgium.

ROME, August 26.—The conduct of the French legion in demanding a return to France because of menacing that the Pope dismissed them.

BERLIN, August 26.—In a demonstration yesterday before the palace the crowd demanded to know the news. The Queen gave them nothing new, and the crowd dispersed slowly unconvinced and dissatisfied.

The bombardment of Strasbourg has been incessant since Tuesday. Several magazines exploded in the city and forts in different places. Prussian loss trifling.

The fourth army, under the Prince Royal of Saxecoburg, is forming to co-operate with the 3rd army in the movement on Paris.

DOVER, August 26.—A formidable ironclad ram with two enormous guns under the French flag has steamed eastward.

A Paris letter says, a cry of horror rings throughout Alsatia. The magnificent cathedral at Marcenpel no longer exists. The Prussians burned it after profaning the statue of the Virgin by covering it with mud.

The Times has the following: "King William is leaving a sufficient force at Metz where the siege works rise like excrescences, and has joined the Crown Prince, who is marching on Paris. McMahon's movement has begun to be intelligible. A fugitive from Woerth, avoiding Metz, he passed through Verges to Chalons where he was at once reinforced by the Garde Mobile and recruits. His obvious aim is to check the Crown Prince's approach on Paris, affecting to disregard McMahon, the Crown Prince passed Chalons, moving on McMahon's flank, offering him battle, which McMahon declined, retreating to Rheims, leaving Chalons to the Prussians since. Rheims itself has been abandoned, it being the obvious motive throughout to avoid a fight.

The Prussians use the railroad from Luneville to a point near Strasbourg for transporting their wounded.

McMahon and Bazaine are still out of communication with Paris.

The Prussian cavalry occupy Doulwant. The Prussian cuirassiers camp at Sterling.

Conscription in Par's occurs on the 29th. The call is for 140,000 unarmed volunteers.

The gunboats for the defence of the city have arrived.

Saturday Evening Dispatches.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, August 27.—Thursday evening dispatches say the Prussian headquarters are at Bar La Duc, the advance had reached a point midway between Chalons and Epernay. The march on Paris is to be conducted leisurely by the Prussians as no further opposition is anticipated. There is authority for saying the fortifications of Paris, unless manned by 500,000 men are worthless. French reports say that Luneville is so filled with the Prussian wounded that three thousand are left unsheltered. Bismarck's son is more seriously wounded than at first reported, and has been sent home.

Bourges the capital city of the Department of Cher, is fortifying. It is stated that the Emperor and members of the Senate and Corps Legislatiff, will go thither. The right wing of the French army has already taken that direction.

Austria has concurred in the declaration of neutrality accepted by Italy. The Russian Minister has returned to St. Petersburg from Vienna; the object of the visit was to express on the part of Russia, a strong desire to improve their relations with Austria. Austria reciprocates, and is anxious to contribute to its fulfillment.

Ratifications of treaties guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium were exchanged here to-day by the various European powers. The junction of Bazaine with McMahon is not yet effected. The Prussian Prince Royal has issued a proclamation saying that Prussia makes war against the Emperor not the people; the people have nothing to fear. The Prince announces his purpose to restore every line of travel interrupted or destroyed by the army operations, so that labor and commerce may everywhere be renewed.

French officials are ordered to remain at their posts their persons safety is guaranteed. The Hessians according to the French are distinguishing themselves by their traditional pillage and brutality.

MONMEDY, August 27.—The French General Batrelle, is moving rapidly. Gen. Legrand was killed at Gravelotte he left eleven daughters.

BERLIN, August 27.—The reserves are organizing here under Gen. Canstein and at Glorgan under Lowenfeld.

PARIS, Midnight, August 27.—The following was made public at the office of the Minister of the Interior. The Prussians are passing through Nancy and going towards Chalons; the siege of Toul is abandoned owing to the vigorous resistance of the garrison. The Prussian scouts cut the railway at Tamoulily, between Montmedy and Mezieres; they were pulsed by the French sharp-shooters and the road repaired. The Prussians of Steinay are falling back on Dun, further south.

The King and Crown Prince are moving on the city old the Marne and Aube. They commit fearful pillages and unheard-of outrages enroute.

CHOLERA.

HOW TO CURE IT.

At the commencement of the Diarrhea, which always precedes an attack of the Cholera, take a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer in sugar and water, (hot, if convenient) and then bathe freely the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer clear. Should the diarrhea or cramps continue repeat the dose every ten or fifteen minutes until the patient is relieved. In extreme cases, two or more teaspoonfuls may be given at a dose.

The Pain Killer as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaints, Dyspepsia, Dysentery, Asthma cures in one night by taking it internally, and bathing well effectually. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to Old Sores, Burns, Scalds, Spra's. For Sick Headache and Toothache don't fail to try it. In short, it is a PAIN KILLER.

Directions accompany each bottle.

The Pain Killer is sold by all dealers in Medicines.

Prices, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

THE EQUITABLE

HAS BECOME THE LEADING COMPANY OF THE WORLD.

Its New Business (sum assured), for the year just expended, that of the second company in rank by more than THIRTEEN MILLION DOLLARS.

In 1859 it was the 9th Company in new business for the year; in 1861 it was the 8th; in 1862 and 1863, the 7th; in 1864 and 1865 the 6th; in 1866, the 4th; in 1867, the 3d; in 1869, the 2nd;

In 1869 it was the FIRST.

The insuring public should not allow itself to be deceived with regard to the term "Annual Dividends." Many companies using this expression mean that their dividends are "annual" after they once begin to pay them at all; but they do not begin to pay until the settlement of the third, fourth, or fifth premium.

One hundred Dollars paid in dividends, at the end of one year, and each year thereafter, equals FOUR HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIX DOLLARS paid at the end of FOUR YEARS, interest at six per cent.

Applications for Assurance may be made to any of the Society Agents throughout the country, or in person or by letter to the General Agents.

A NEW DISCOVERY!!
"VITALIA;"
OR,
Salvation for the Hair.

CLEAR AS WATER!
WITHOUT SEDIMENT!!
OPEN TO THE LIGHT!!!

For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the hair coloring preparations heretofore used. It is limpid, sweet smelling, precipitates no muddy or slimy matter, requires no shaking, imparts no stain to the skin. Hold it to the light and it is clear and cloudless. It leaves no mark on the scalp; yet it reproduces in gray hair the natural color that time or sickness may have bleached out of it.

☞ Phalon's Vitalia ☜

is for one sole purpose, that of reproducing, with absolute certainty, the natural color of the hair. It is not intended as a daily dressing, nor for removing scurf or dandruff; nor for curing baldness; nor for stimulating the growth of the hair.—These objects may be accomplished after the color has been fixed with the Vitalia, by Phalon's Chemical Hair Invigorator.

THE VITALIA is a harmless and unequaled preparation for the reproduction of the original hue of gray hair, and nothing else. This is accomplished in from two to ten applications, according to the depth of shade required. Sold by all druggists.

NON-EXPLOSIVE COMBINATION
BURNING FLUID
THE CHEAPEST, BEST AND SAFEST ILLUMINATING AGENT IN THE WORLD!!

No more Exploded Cans!—No more Exploded Lamps!
No more Smoke!—No more Grease!
No more Fires!!

EVERYBODY PREFERS IT AFTER GIVING IT A TRIAL!

It costs less!—It lasts longer!—Gives a more Brilliant Light!—May be burned in hand lamps, without chimney.

Guaranteed to make a better and safer Light than Coal Oil and to be NON-EXPLOSIVE!!!

No accidents have ever happened with it.

Protected by Copy right for 28 years from May 8th 1869.

The above Fluid has been in constant use for upwards of three years, and has sustained its unrivalled reputation, as a brilliant, non-explosive illuminating agent, though subjected to the severest tests. Being universally conceded to be superior to Kerosene or Coal Oil. It makes a better light and more of it, than any other illuminating compound. Soft, clear, steady and uninjurious to the eyes. All that is asked is, a fair and impartial trial.

Among the numerous testimonials received read the following:

PHILADELPHIA, March 15th, 1869.

The undersigned, having witnessed the experiments of Messrs. Hale & Co., with their Combination Burning Fluid, take pleasure in commending it to the public. The various tests to which the Fluid was subjected, was in the highest degree satisfactory. We have no hesitation in pronouncing it to be a safe and brilliant illuminating agent. Its cheapness added to its other good qualities, should insure its introduction into every family in the country, where Kerosene Oil is used.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!!

THE BROOKLYN LIFE, IS THE ONLY COMPANY IN AMERICA WHICH GUARANTEES

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

IN CASE A POLICY IS FORFEITED FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.

The BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for judgment of investment, economy of management, and skill and care in the selection of risks,—upon which elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the Cash value of their Policies, each and every year, and a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully seek for this important safeguard. It will be found in the BROOKLYN LIFE.

YOUNG, HEALTHY, VIGOROUS AND CONDUCTED BY A WISE, PRUDENT, AND ECONOMICAL BOARD OF DIRECTORS UPON A

NEW SYSTEM,

devised by its talented and distinguished Actuary CHAS. N. MORGAN, which must make it the leading Company in America, for persons in and all who appreciate and demand the most UNQUESTIONABLE SECURITY, at rates in most cases, considerably lower than those of the leading Mutual Cash Companies.

The Excelsior issues Policies on all the plans of Mutual or Stock Companies, extending to policy holders, all th ir really desirable advantages. Its policies being non-forfeiting, the insured are privileged to live and travel where they please in any healthy part of the world, they participate in its profits, are allowed 30 days grace for payment of renewal of premium, a cash surrender value of policy, and a privilege which has never been offered by any other Company, that of converting Policies into after the payment of 5 or more annual premiums.

☞ Hitherto, I have been restricted in the very popular Company which I had the honor to represent to Stock rates alone, which most of the Mutual, and mixed Companies have adopted. This disadvantage, together with the multiplication of many new Companies, in this State with claimed to possess unusual charms, together with the extraordinary attractions presented by the Excelsior induced me to accept the management of that Company, whose plan combines all the popular features of other Companies, represented in this State, without an exception, and the additional privilege of converting policies, which the holder can not afford to keep up, or wishes to discontinue because of the death of those for whose benefit the policy was secured, such as Annuity Bond which provides an income to each through life, or for a series of years as preferred.

Circulars giving full explanations and any other information, will be cheerfully furnished

The most liberal arrangements, will be made with first class solicitors, to push the Excelsior forward in the Old North State, to that position which her low rates and most ample security entitle her to occupy.
